

We demand that the Internet be kept free from corporate controlling of content and that it continues to provide equal access for all. To fight for this basic right shows how the nation is being savaged by Russian trolls and corrupt officials who bend over when paid by backers. An American society will not accept or tolerate such censorship and extortion.